

MOE Castle and the Frog Pond

Social Studies

The students have finished learning about the history of Michigan. They learned just how hard it was for pioneers to get to Michigan. Be sure to ask them how they think the horses felt on the long journey.

Kim and Claire were two of our winners for most growth on the NWEA. Nice headphones.

Math

The kids had a great time learning about geometry. They really enjoyed drawing the shapes with their templates. Now we are moving onto more multiplying. Many of them are excited because they can/will be able to multiply really large numbers. After that we will move onto fractions.

Zack loves reading on that couch.

Science

The students have finished learning about light and are now moving onto sound. The classroom has been quite noisy during a few of the lessons. That's a lot of sound vibrations.

Charlotte is concentrating pretty hard.

Writing

Wow these kids are opinionated. We have been writing essays to support their thoughts on a certain topics. Some of these have included "Should you be allowed to watch tv as much as you want?" and "Should kids have a bedtime?"

Reading

We have been reading all about disasters. The students have really enjoyed the stories. Once a week we have had homework of recording ourselves reading. It is solely to help each student become better with their own fluency.

Conferences are next week. Please go to www.myconferencetime.com/ludington There you will click on Foster and then find Mr. Moelker.

Due to a conflict on Wednesday, I will not be able to have conferences that night. Instead, I have opened up times on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. If none of these will work for you please let me know and I can make other arrangements.

If you are not able to visit the website please let me know a time and day.

Field Trip

We have rescheduled the field trip for Tuesday, March 17. We are hoping the weather will be perfect for snowshoeing and sledding. Please remember that if you still planning on attending with the class you need to stop by the district office and fill out a background check.
